Biography:

A young boy once told his mother "Mommy, I've decided what I want to be when I grow up...a musician!" The mother says, "Okay honey. But you can't do both."

The Fearless Starlight Band is the "brainchild" of Athens, Ohio attorney, Frank Lavelle, who is living proof that you can grow to be any age and still be a musician. With the help from a number of producers and musicians in the School of Media Arts & Studies at Ohio University's College of Communication, Frank has been able to release two full albums within less than a year. Musician, composer, and audio engineer, Marcus Meston, from Nashville TN, co-produced the new album. Guitarists Derek Long & Jon Averbook (now both working in L.A.), Garret Namian (NYC) - all from the band Waivada, and engineer Timon Adams (Atlanta, GA), contributed to the first two albums. Set to release on May 22nd, 2017 on all major music platforms, "When the Stars Align", is the third studio album from The Fearless Starlight Band. Stemming off of the reoccurring interstellar and transcendent concepts brought from the first two offerings, "When the Stars Align" is the band's strongest effort and is sure to capture the attention from listeners looking for a new musical experience of inter-dimensional space rock.
